

About our Residential Projects

Brackmann Construction and Remodeling has made a name for itself for the top-notch remodeling and construction we have performed over the past 20+ years. We can (and prefer to) handle all aspects of the construction process, leaving you to go about your daily routine without concern for who is in your house or what the contractor is doing. We work in some of the nicest homes in all of Kansas City and have never had a complaint about our ethics or that of our employees. (We have even worked in banks, police buildings, churches and every other high security arena without a single incident.)

We are the contractor you expect and deserve. We perform all of our crafts with professionalism and respect for the customer's prized possessions. If you are looking for a contractor to treat you with the respect you deserve, call us for an estimate, local references, or any other questions you might have regarding our services.

The majority of our residential work is in and around the Kansas City metro area. It includes all aspects of traditional construction, from framing, drywall, plumbing, electrical, and HVAC, to the finer details of painting, wallpaper, carpeting, trim and custom cabinets. We have experience in all phases of construction and, while we do use subcontractors for some specialized trades, they are hand-selected to meet our high standards and expectations.

About our Residential Projects

In addition everyone who works for Brackmann Remodeling and Construction carries workman's compensation and liability insurance. This protects you from risk of lawsuit if someone gets injured. Our residential construction projects range from the low $1,000's to full additions and whole-house remodels in excess of $500,000. There just isn't a "typical" remodel. We're experts in custom solutions because every customer has a unique idea of they want to improve.

Brackmann Remodel and Construction has a comprehensive safety program for all of its employees to assure that each of them is aware of the risks they and others undertake as part of the daily regimen of the profession. The safety program is not only for the employees but also for the benefit of our customers. Tradesmen who are aware of risks make better informed decisions when they have to engage in relatively dangerous activities. We are proud to have year-round training, a comprehensive safety program with mandatory monthly update meetings so you can be assured that our professionals know what they are doing.

About our Residential Projects

We're prepared to meet with you and you make plans for your new remodel. We appreciate people who take the time to plan ahead and have some idea of what they want prior to meeting; however, we also have the capacity to bring in design and architectural professionals should your project require them. We understand that time is important to you and your family. Give us a call to meet with our sales professionals.